MORE FIRE HYDRANTS ON SEVERAL STREETS ORDERED BY COUNCIL

FIRE CHIEF ASKS FOR ANOTHER PAID FIREMAN - NUMEROUS PETITION AND COMMUNICATIONS. MEETING AGAIN TONIGHT.

Daytona city council convened on Monday evening and considered numerous matters of slight importance. Resident Schmidt, Members Stevens, Hendrick, Gungarty and Conrad, Mayor and Clerk Porter were present. Warrants were ordered drawn for eight claims aggregating $598.96.

City Engineer C. M. Rogers' bill for services rendered from August, 1914, to February, 1915, was approved by the city council, and after some discussion council ordered the claim paid.

L. Z. Burdick asked for permission to construct an eight-inch side wall in brick building he proposes to erect on Beach street, between the Shook and Donnelly buildings. Further than to point out that the erection of a wall of the thickness mentioned would not conform with the building regulations, council took no action on the petition.

Fire Chief French recommended, among other things, that fire hydrants be placed on Volusia, Magnolia and Orange avenues, in the middle of the blocks lying between Beach street and Alameda avenue. So ordered. The chief's request that a third paid fireman be employed was referred to the fire committee.

Citizens and property owners submitted a petition asking that C. A. Balough be required to remove his coal, stone and lumber yard from the river bank directly in front of the San Juan garage. Petitioners alleged that their property is being damaged by the presence of the yard. The matter was referred to the mayor with power to act.

Clerk Porter reported the receipt of a rental fee for the city island, and asked for instructions as to the money's disposition. Referred to the finance committee.

The East Florida Telephone company filed another request for remission of its 1915 franchise tax, alleging that it is being put to a great deal of expense through placing underground its wires along Beach street, and further, that all of the franchise money remitted will be expended in extension work. Referred to the finance committee.

The street committee reported that a number of citizens are asking that Alameda avenue south of Deland be hard-surfaced.

It was recommended by the street committee that another light be placed on the bridge on Ridgewood avenue across the South canal.

A citizens' petition asked that owners of lot 4, block 64, on the east side of South Ridgewood avenue, be required to build concrete sidewalk in front of their property. The clerk was instructed to notify the said property owners to construct the sidewalk.

Other communications of minor importance were either filed or referred to committees.

Council adjourned to meet again on Wednesday evening at 7:30, at which time tax matters will be considered.

Pres. Ridicules Reports About Mex. Intervention

NEW ORDINANCE IS VERY DRASTIC

FIRE CHIEF FRENCH MAKES INITIAL INSPECTION AND FINDS MANY INFRINGEMENTS IN REGARD TO TRASH BURNING.

Chief W. E. French, of the Daytona fire department, made a preliminary inspection Monday of the fire district in accordance with the enforcement of the new ordinance for the abatement of nuisances and followed it up this morning with a more thorough inspection which resulted in his giving 27 notices of infringement of the ordinance.

That section referring to the burning of trash seems to be quite generally misinterpreted, being far more drastic than is generally supposed. Chief French says he will enforce it strictly as it now stands or until the section has been modified by an amendment.

All residents and property owners within the city limits should bear in mind that no trash of any kind must be burned within 25 feet of any building and only then when the incinerating is done in an accepted trash burner. This includes brush and weeds, as well as paper and other lighter trash, and really prohibits the burning of any material of this kind within the city limits.

Mr. and Mrs. Tingley were so well pleased with this city and vicinity that they have decided to return next winter and spend the season here.

FEAR OF WAR WITH ENGLAND DRIVES CANADIAN HOME

F. C. BORSH CLOSES WINTER HOME ON SOUTH RIDGEWOOD AVENUE AND LEAVES WITH FAMILY FOR TORONTO.

F. C. Borsh, a Canadian, who owns a bungalow on South Ridgewood avenue, just north of the Hotel Poinsettia, and has been occupying it during the season in company with his wife and a married daughter, Mrs. C. L. Brooker, and two young sons, became so fearful of this country and England becoming involved in war through disagreements arising from the European conflict that he closed his winter home Monday and departed with his family for his home in Toronto, Canada.

Mr. Borsh has evidently been keeping informed of the negotiations between this country and the English government and the present strained relations arising from the dilatory and unsatisfactory replies to American inquiries concerning matters of international law preyed upon him to such an extent that he decided to return to Canada at once in case the present difficulty resulted in an open rupture.

So seriously did Mr. Borsh look upon the matter that he endeavored to keep his departure from becoming public, and when questioned at the depot Monday morning he gave out that he was merely making a short trip to Jacksonville.

SPECIAL EDITION FORMS CLOSE 12TH

Several inquiries have been made at the Gazette-News office as to whether or not the mid-winter illustrated edition will contain views of residences in Daytona and vicinity.

We wish to announce that the Gazette-News will be glad to show views of this character in the mid-winter edition and request that communication be made with this office at once by residents wishing their homes represented in the publication.

One feature of the mid-winter edition will be a hotel directory, devoted to the various hostleries in this vicinity and the co-operation of these enterprises is solicited. Representatives of the Gazette-News will call on the hotel men of the city with reference to this feature.

The forms of the mid-winter edition will close on Friday of this week, and after that date no space orders calling for illustrations will be accepted.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING TO BE AT EARLIER HOUR

The Daytona Board of Trade meeting next Friday evening will be held an hour earlier than usual, or at 7:00 o'clock instead of 8:00, on account of the Elks' minstrel which will be given at the New Daytona theatre that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rikeman were Daytona visitors from Allandale Monday afternoon, Mr. Rikeman remaining to attend a meeting in the evening for the organization of the Halifax Building and Loan company.

After Half A Century

By JOHN TURNLEE

One morning when John Merton of Chicago awoke and looked out through his front window he noticed some men digging in a vacant lot opposite. He was seized with trepidation lest some objectionable building was to be erected on the lot and, dressing himself, went out to make inquiries. He learned that the lot had been sold and the owner was about to erect on it a soap factory.

Mr. Merton at once sought the man and secured an option on the lot at a substantial profit to the latter. Then he visited several of his neighbors, proposing that they should club together and protect the locality by buying the lot. Only one person, a man named Gawtry, was willing or perhaps able to make such an investment, and he and Merton became the owners. By agreement they put the property in the hands of a trust company, to be divided among the heirs of the third generation, or the grandchildren of the two owners. The Mertons were to have the north half and the Gawtrys the south half.

Twenty years later, both Merton and Gawtry being dead and the part of the city in which the lot lay having become used for business, the trustees leased the lot for thirty years, and a store building was erected upon it. By the terms of the lease at its expiration the building was to belong to the owner of the lot.

Meanwhile the descendants of the joint owners had become scattered, the trust company's directors and officers had been changed, and there was no descendant of either Merton or Gawtry who knew about the lot, for which but $800 had been paid by the two purchasers.

One day an advertisement appeared for grandchildren of the late John Merton and Samuel Gawtry. It elicited no response and was repeated from time to time for a year, when it met the eyes of a young bank clerk named Spencer in a western city. His father and mother were dead, but he knew that his mother's maiden name was Merton. He wrote to the advertiser and received a printed statement setting forth the facts in the case of the Merton-Gawtry lot. Spencer, convinced that the John Merton named was his grandfather, investigated the case and, after a long hunt, found that he was the only living grandchild of the said Merton and consequently heir to the north half of the property.

No response to the advertisement whatever came from the Gawtry side, and no division could be made of the lot and building until the heirs in this family were found. John Spencer, desirous of coming into what was a fortune, at once made it his business to hunt up these heirs. He began at the fountainhead, making inquiries as to the first and second generations of Gawtrys, and learned that a son of Samuel Gawtry had settled in Detroit.

Spencer went to Detroit, where he learned that the widow of Samuel Gawtry of the second generation was living in straitened circumstances. Not wishing to excite false hopes in this person, he made inquiries in a roundabout way and learned that the original Gawtry had had several children, but the only living grandchild was Marian Gawtry, daughter of the widow he had found. Having proceeded thus far, Spencer returned to Chicago and reported his find to the trust company and left its officers to satisfy themselves that he (Spencer) and Marian Gawtry were the heirs to the property in question and, this done, to give each heir a half.

One morning Miss Marian Gawtry, when about to go to her school duties, took a letter from the postman informing her that the Trust company of Chicago was ready to convey to her one-half of a certain lot and building in that city bequeathed to her by her grandfather, Samuel Gawtry. She referred the matter to her mother, who said she had never heard of her father owning such property. He had left Chicago forty years before, a poor man. Miss Gawtry put the matter down as a mistake and, proceeding to school, thought no more about it.

One evening she received a call from a young man named Spencer. He was about to mention the fact that she was an heiress when it occurred to him that since there was a building on the property there might be difficulty in dividing it and it would be better that they should own it together. But he was an honorable fellow and scorned to win her knowing that she was an heiress. "Miss Gawtry," he said, "I have come to Detroit to inform you that you are joint owner with me of a lot and building in Chicago worth in all half a million dollars."

The young lady, remembering the former information she had received on this subject, coolly remarked:

"That's a mistake. My mother says her father owned no such property in Chicago."

"Will you marry me if what I tell you is true?"

"If you can convince me that I am worth the sum you name I'll marry you!"

Spencer eventually proved his case and held her to her promise. Since they had been mutually pleased with each other and a division of the property was hard to effect Miss Gawtry was by no means loath to keep it.

All of which goes to show that our fates are often determined by small matters.

KING OF ROUMANIA

New portrait of King Ferdinand of Roumania, who, it is believed, will be compelled before long to enter the war on the side of the allies.

TITUS TO FLING BALL FROM THE GRANDSTAND

Upon Mayor Henry T. Titus, of Daytona, has been thrust the honor of being chosen to throw the first ball from the grandstand onto the diamond when the formal opening of Ebbets field takes place, day after tomorrow. By "formal" opening is meant the real opening of the winter baseball season.

Mayor Titus' frisky perambulations hither and yon about Daytona, every day and Sunday, too, from rosy dawn to late, every late, dewy eve, indicate that he will be able to toss the sphere right into the pitcher's box, and maybe into deep center or even over the back fence. They say his honor was some "bear-cat" of a ball player himself back yonder in the old days when we old boys played "town ball"—shortly after the late unpleasantness of the '60s.

Had a Better Name for the Baby.
A literary mother in a town not a thousand miles away from Toronto Republican office exhibited her first born to a bachelor acquaintance. The infant set up a lusty squalling, and between yells the mother said: "We're—thinking of—calling her—Hysteria!" "Huh," grunted the bachelor, "better call her Hysteria!"—Kansas City Star.

What Interested Him.
Four-year-old Paul had heard the next door neighbor say that she was to have a dress "with a train on it." As soon as the neighbor had gone Paul asked his mother breathlessly: "Oh, mamma, will the train have an engine, too?"

In the Zuyder Zee.
In Holland, according to popular tradition, the ruins of several large cities lie in the basin of the Zuyder Zee. These cities were submerged by the North sea breaking its banks and overflowing the country, it is believed.

Forehanded.
"I want three afternoons off a week and a fine letter of recommendation, and—" "But we'll let the letter of recommendation wait until you leave, I—" "Nepe, I get the letter now. I've tried gettin' them when I leave, and I've never been able to get a good one yet."

SHELL FISH COMMISSIONER T. R. HODGES' OFFICE ONE OF HIGHEST IMPORTANCE

Florida Shell Fish Commissioner T. R. Hodges, who arrived in Daytona, Monday, to look after the state's interest in matters with which his office has to do, spent several hours looking over the local situation and making inspections. Here and at New Smyrna and Port Orange he found numerous things of interest to his department, and in discussing one matter and another with a representative of the Daily News, Mr. Hodges expressed enthusiastic over the possibilities for profitable oyster culture in that portion of the Halifax river included in this locality. Particularly at Port Orange, he said, conditions for raising the popular bivalve are almost ideal, as they are also at Daytona, except for the present peculiar local conditions which renders the oyster grown in the river at this point undesirable for food. This drawback to the local development of the industry, said the commissioner, will eventually be removed.

and when this is done oysters as large and succulent and as safely edible as any may be cultivated within a few dozen feet of Beach street.

Mr. Hodges had visited this locality several times before in his official capacity. Each visit tends to increase his interest in Halifax river shell fish. During the past year at Port Orange several persons were profitably engaged in the oyster business, and while the commissioner was there Monday, he was besieged with applications for fishing rights.

Aboard the handsome state boat, the Seafoam, on which he travels from point to point and performs his official duties, Commissioner Hodges left early Tuesday morning for St.
Augustine, where a brief stop will be made. From there he will go to Jacksonville; back again down the Halifax to the southern end of the Florida peninsula, and thence to the West Coast.

Mr. Hodges is very much in love with his work, and stays on the job (it is a job, too—one that not only requires hard work and eternal vigilance, but not infrequently puts the performer's life in peril) from year's end to year's end. One cannot long talk with Hodges about shell fish and their importance as one of Florida's great assets without becoming convinced that he is the right man in the right place.

"No state in the Union has the coastline mileage that Florida has.
Including her bays and salt rivers she has a waterline of over 3,000 miles, extending from Pensacola on the Gulf coast to Fernandina on the Atlantic coast.

"The shell fish industry of Florida has been in the eye of the people for the past two years, the first step towards conservation having been taken by the passage of the shell fish law at the last session of the legislature.
This industry had long been neglected and badly depleted on account of no protection having been given the small oysters or clams and no effort made to reestablish or build up the public bars or to artificially cultivate privately owned beds. Under the present administration this has been carried on extensively. Depleted oyster bars have been closed against public use in order to give small oysters a chance to grow to maturity. Thousands of barrels of oyster shell "cultch" have been planted on the water bottoms of the state for the purpose of establishing new bars.

"Florida realizes about $400,000 annually from the sale of her oysters and clams.  Several large canning plants are located in the state, and clams are steamed and packed very extensively.

Value As a Food Product.

"Oysters have practically the same food value as meat and are even more easily digested, and therefore are an important part of the invalid's diet.
In buying meats there is nearly always a good deal of waste in the form of bones, inedible portions, etc.
In the oyster there are no bones or feathers and no inedible portions. It is all meat and particularly rich in those elements which go to repair overworked brains and nervous systems.

"It is a well known fact that every food product has advanced in price while the oyster market has not changed. It cannot be cornered, and both the rich and poor enjoy them.

"Florida waters contain three other valuable specimens of the shell fish tribe. The shrimp comes first in importance; next the crab, and the "Florida lobster," commonly called the crawfish, which abound more especially on the East Coast of the state.

"The soft and hard shell crabs may be found all along the eastern and western coasts, and are marketed ex-

Recent arrivals at Hotel Clarendon include the following named guests: Mrs. A. B. Telgemaker, Miss Olive Telgemaker, Charlotta Telgemaker, Erie, Pa.; Frederick A. Childs, New York; J. F. Rateliff, Huntington, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wing, Master Reginald Wing, Miss Champlin, Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. William R. Porter, Miss Alice C. ZAHNER PARTY WILL REMAIN ANOTHER WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Zahner, Miss Nannie Zahner and Miss Helen Louise Crosby, who have been winter guests at Hotel Clarendon for several weeks, and who had expected to return north Wednesday, have decided to remain another week, much to the delight of the young people at the big resort. The Zahner party was joined Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. A. Waters, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

THIS GAME SHOULD DRAW LARGE CROWD

CLARENDON-ORMOND BOYS WILL ATTEMPT TO HAND FIRST DE- FEAT OF SEASON TO BROOK- LYN SUPERBAS NEXT FRIDAY.

If you can take any stock in what the Clarendon boys are saying in reference to handing a cold-blooded defeat to the Brooklyn Superbas on Friday next, Ebbetts Park ought to see the biggest crowd of fans on hand that ever witnessed a game of baseball on Florida soil. Tom Harrison has been lying awake nights in an endeavor to figure out just how the trick is going to be turned, and he is passing out the "dope" to his friends with a view to putting them right on the betting.

The Clarendon-Ormond team is to be chosen from the clubs of both hotels, and only those who can be relied upon to fill the different positions are to be selected for Friday's game. All of the other players have been instructed to report for duty in case that substitutes are needed. It is authoritatively stated that fully two hundred fans from Ormond will accompany the players to Seabreeze where they will be joined by a like number from the Clarendon. The best "rooters" are to be provided with megaphones and a prize awarded to the person shouting the loudest.

There isn't the slightest doubt in the mind of Manager Robinson as to the ultimate outcome of Friday's game, yet he will take no chances on a possible defeat at the hands of a bunch of experienced players. His line-up will include nearly all of last year's star performers and with William Klem as umpire, the game should furnish no end of excitement for hundreds of fans from all over this section.

Tickets for Friday's game are now being offered for sale at 50 cents each. Street car service will be operated to and from the grounds. Game called at 3:00 o'clock.

CLOCK GOLF PUTTING CONTEST HAS MANY ENTRIES

Two handsome prizes are to be awarded the winners in the clock golf putting contest at Hotel Clarendon tomorrow morning. A large number of the best players at the big resort have entered the match which is expected to furnish a lot of amusement for the spectators, for the reason that considerable rivalry has developed since the last contest was decided about a week ago.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL M'KEEL GAVE A DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKeel gave a very delightful dinner party to Miss Kitty Kittle and C. J. Root at the Clarendon grill on Sunday evening. Mr. McKeel is a royal entertainer and with Mr. Root in the party the two made a "pair" that was hard to beat.

HOT SALT BATHS WILL CURE RHEUMATISM

The Turkish bath department at Hotel Clarendon has proven a source of great benefit for many tourists, who have made frequent visits there this season, for the relief of rheumatic troubles, which, in numerous cases, have yielded to the effects of treatment administered by the experts in charge. The hot salt baths in particular, have relieved cases of rheumatism of several years' standing, and not a few persons declare that all signs of the trouble disappeared after the first three or four baths.

HORSEBACK RIDING IS POPULAR WITH LADIES

Miss Stella Griffin, of Chicago, who is a guest at Hotel Clarendon for the season, spends much of her time in the saddle, having brought her favorite mount to Seabreeze at the beginning of the year. Miss Griffin is one of the most accomplished horsewomen stopping at the big resort, and not a day passes that she doesn't spend several hours in the saddle. Yesterday Miss Griffin was accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Potter on her favorite, Lady Dick, and together the ladies covered many miles of country before returning home.

Picked Up at Sea

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

We were sailing on the Australian coast when a boat was espied by the lookout. She was an ordinary ship's lifeboat, open, and was dancing merrily on the waves in the bright sunlight. When she came nearer we counted nine men in her. She was heading for us, and the captain gave an order to slow down. As soon as she came alongside a man in the bow hailed us and asked us to take them aboard.

The captain questioned them, and they told him that they were members of the crew of a ship that had collided with another in a fog and had gone to the bottom. He asked how long ago that was and they said a week. Then he asked what had become of the officers and the rest of the crew and was told that they had gone down with the ship. There was only time to get out the one boat before she sank.

The story didn't appeal to the captain as being likely, but he could not refuse to take the men aboard and did so. As soon as they came aboard we saw that their faces were by no means attractive. They asked our captain for what port he was bound and when he said Melbourne I noticed that on the faces of some of them was a scared look, while others seemed to be saying to themselves, "Not if we can prevent it."

I made up my mind that the men were mutineers and had either been put off a ship or sunk a ship or something of the kind, but when they were put to work they showed such ignorance of everything nautical that I changed my opinion. That they were not what they purported to be was evident, but what they were we had no means of knowing.

Our ship was a small steamer, not needing a numerous crew. We usually carried eighteen men, including captain and mate. I being mate, but now we were reduced to twelve.

One evening one of our regular crew came to me and told me that the strangers had taken weapons from the ship's armory and hidden them in the hold. The captain was asleep in his cabin at the time, and I preferred to act on the information rather than wake him up. He was a headstrong man and was liable to give our enemies the advantage by some rash act.

I sent for the man who had been spokesman when we met them and asked him whether he and his men preferred to make some other port than Melbourne. He admitted that they would, but when I asked him where they would like to put in he said that they preferred not to stop at an Australian port at all. I told him to consult with his mates as to what they wanted and let me know.

I did this to put the strangers off their guard and gain time. It was evident, from their not wishing to go ashore in Australian territory, that they were criminals. After consulting with the others the leader came back and told me that they would like to be put out in a large boat we carried which was rigged with a sail and in part decked over, of course they would need to be provisioned.

This was a dead giveaway on their part and showed that they were desperate, for they had no knowledge of navigation and would be at the mercy of the winds and waters. I pretended to accede to their request and directed that they come on deck and get the boat ready to be lowered. As soon as they went to work I sent men to collect the weapons they had stolen.

When this was done I stationed men in different parts of the vessel, all armed. Then I began to send the strangers in different directions for different articles they would need on their voyage. Some were sent for provisions, some for water, some for blankets, some for fuel.
I first ordered their spokesman, who was leader as well, to take two men with him and go down to the hold for some salt pork. He obeyed and three out of the nine men went below not to reappear again, for as soon as they got into the dark hold hands were clapped on their mouths and they were removed to the brig. As soon as it was reported to me that they had been captured I sent two more men to the sail room for canvas. They, too, were secured, and within twenty minutes from the time they had started to get the boat ready I had them all under lock and key.

When the captain appeared on deck the next morning and I told him that the strangers had stolen arms he looked serious. Then when I told him that I had the men secured he was astonished, not being able to understand how he could have slept through a mutiny. Finally when I gave him my plan and the manner of its accomplishment he reprimanded me for acting without his orders.

A few days later we reached port. I went to the municipal office and stated the case, to be told that nine persons serving terms at a prison near the coast had escaped. A boat was missing, and it was supposed they had taken it and put to sea. Government officers were looking for them, but thus far had seen nothing of them.

The men were taken in charge by the police and returned to the prison.
Their leader told me before leaving that they had planned to take the ship the very night I executed the plan that resulted in their capture.

Ink Which Bleaches.

As the carbon of ordinary printing inks does not bleach in using printed material for new paper, a French firm has patented a special ink. The black pigment is a compound from tanbark extracts acting on ferrous sulphate; and this is incorporated with resin, or mineral oil and resin, or boiled linseed oil. In repulping the paper the ink is bleached with an acid solution of a hypochloride, chlorine gas or hydrochloric or oxalic acid, the pulp being made perfectly white.

DEATH CLAIMS A WINTER RESIDENT

W. J. SHAW DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS—REMAINS WILL BE TAKEN NORTH FOR INTER-MENT.

William John Shaw died this morning at about 9:00 o'clock, following an illness which dates from his arrival in the city in the fall.

The remains will be forwarded tomorrow to Newport, R. I., for interment at that place, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Shaw and her sister, Mrs. Emma Shaw, of Newport, who joined Mr. and Mrs. Shaw in this city several weeks ago. Funeral services will be held at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, who were from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., spent the summer at Twin Lakes, Conn., and for a number of years have been winter residents of Daytona, owning a home at 736 South Ridgewood avenue.

Mr. Shaw was taken ill a few days after his return to Daytona for the winter. He was operated on at a hospital or more ago for gall bladder trouble, and for a time appeared to be improving but a relapse recently made recovery very doubtful and for several days his death had been expected.

Mr. Shaw was of a quiet, kindly disposition and during his long residence here made many friends who will learn with deep regret of his death while their sympathy will be extended to Mrs. Shaw in her bereavement.

EXCELLENT PLAYING ONE OF TOURNAMENT'S PROMINENT FEATURES — MORE MATCHES YESTERDAY AND TODAY.

As stated in yesterday's Daily News, Messrs. Fisher, Cunningham and Parks won the opening matches in the men's single division of the Despland tennis tournament, played at the Despland court Monday morning. Three matches were scheduled for the afternoon, two of which were played, Green winning from Davis, 6-1 and 6-0, and Potvin taking two sets from Donnelly by scores of 6-4 and 6-1. Dr. Raymond Howe won from Greer by default.

The contest between Green and Davis was decidedly one-sided, Green having all the advantages from the start. Green played steady, consistent tennis and won largely through his ability to place his drives.

The second match of the afternoon brought forth a display of good tennis from each of the contestants, especially in the opening set. Potvin took the lead, winning the first two games, but from then on the games went with the service, Potvin winning 6-4. In the second set, Potvin displayed considerably more form, and while Mr. Donnelly forced the playing to duce several times, the result was never in doubt, Potvin taking the set, and with it the match, 6-1.

In the second of the elimination rounds in the men's singles division, played this morning, Fisher took two sets out of three from Dr. Raymond Howe, by scores of 2-6, 6-2 and 6-2. In the opening set Fisher had difficulty in solving Dr. Howe's service and took but two games. He reversed this score in the two subsequent sets, however, and took the match, two sets to one.

The first of the men's doubles matches was played just before noon, when Cunningham and Green won from Holmes and Shaw, 6-3 and 6-4. Both teams displayed considerable class, but the team work of the winning duo was rather more finished, and their victory was a deserved one. Both of today's matches were witnessed by a fair-sized gallery of tennis enthusiasts.

MILLS DIDN'T QUALIFY AND JOB FADED AWAY

At the last February meeting of the city council, E. J. Mills was chosen as successor to E. L. Gunn, resigned. Mr. Mills was notified of his election and signified his willingness to accept the position. But when the new councilman-elect "came up smiling" to attend Monday night's meeting of the city fathers, there was absolutely nothing doing; that is, nothing in the way of official activity for Mr. Mills. True, he had been regularly elected and likewise regularly notified of the honor imposed upon him. He had failed to qualify within the time required by law—not later than five days after election.

That was all there was to it, except a good bit of chafing from the duly qualified members of the council for the gentleman whose job had gone glimmering. Just before the august body adjourned, however, Councilman Stevens nominated Mr. Mills again, and he was once more elected, and Mayor Titus administered the oath of office immediately.

BURGLARIZING NOT SO SIMPLE AS IT LOOKS

"I bet that I could commit a burglary and that the whole police force of this city couldn't catch me," said a rich young New York society man in his club one day. And just because all his friends laughed at him and was in haste to "take him up" he set seriously about the task of winning his wager.

If this hadn't happened—at least, in the imaginations of the original authors of "A Gentleman of Leisure"—the famous Broadway comedy of that name would never have been written; and Jesse L. Lasky's picturization, with Wallace Eddinger in the stellar role, would, of course, never have been produced. Which is very good evidence that the most foolish bets are sometimes unintentionally very much worth while, if only to make the world happier by provoking millions of people to harmless laughter.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The Sunday evening concert given by the orchestra of the Despland, was up to the usual high standard which has been maintained by the organization this season. The Despland has long been famous for music furnished for dances and at the musicales, and this year is no exception. That the guests appreciate the management's efforts in this direction, is shown by the uniformly large attendance at the regular concerts.

The cool weather of yesterday had little or no effect upon the many guests of the Ridgewood. Shortly after the serving of breakfast, card tables were in great demand, and throughout the morning and afternoon a large majority of the 200 or more guests of the hotel, enjoyed the delights of bridge and 500. Others of the guests enjoyed automobile rides in the early afternoon, while still others enjoyed a round or two of golf.

Every member of the Brooklyn baseball team is enthusiastic over Daytona, the accommodations afforded the team, and the attitude of the local fans, and every one of them will be "pulling" for Daytona during the coming season, just as every resident of the "prettiest winter resort in the world" will pull for the Superbas to win the coveted National league bunting, and the world's series. That the efforts of the managements of the Despland, Prince George and Schmidt's, where the ball players are quartered, have been appreciated, is shown by the players' attitude. "The rooms, 'eats' and people of this city are the best we ever struck in the training season," remarked one of them recently, and he meant it.

Dante and Shakespeare.

Both Dante and Shakespeare belong to the world's literary "Big Four," the other two being Cervantes and Homer. The works of Dante and those of Shakespeare represent the very top notch of human poetic genius and it would be difficult to say which is the greater.

Look Ahead!

The present moment is the worst; the lenient hand of Time is daily and hourly either lightening the burden, or making us insensible to the weight.—Robert Burns.

"A Hungry Eye Sleeps Not."

The old adage, "A hungry eye sleeps not," is a very truthful one, and many a sufferer from insomnia would be cured of the complaint if he drank a cup of hot milk, with a little nutmeg grated on top and sweetened, if desired. Hot malted milk is also excellent, and hot milk toast has brought restful slumber to many a convalescent.

WILL ERECT BEAUTIFUL HOME ON WATERFRONT

An item of much interest to Seabreeze residents, and especially those owning river front property, is the purchase of C. A. Kenney's residence river property, adjoining R. E. Olds' winter home on the north, on North Halifax avenue. The property was sold to C. J. Rouser, a prominent business man of Lansing, Mich., who arrived some weeks ago to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Smith G.
Young. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet on North Halifax avenue and is 350 feet deep, more or less, extending to the river. It is one of the most desirable properties on this street of handsome homes, being well wooded with large oaks, and set with a small orchard of citrus and other fruit trees.
By the conditions of the sale, the small cottage near the river goes with the lot, while the larger building is retained by Mr. Kenney and will be moved to some one of his vacant lots.
When seen by a reporter Monday morning Mr. Rouser said it was his intention to erect a home on the property in keeping with other substantial winter homes which have been erected on Halifax avenue within the past year or two, although he does not now expect to build right away.

Those rooms should be rented; that furnished house let. Try a want ad in

ing. Four tables were engaged. After the games tempting refreshments cent social at the little chapel. Chocolate will be served. The ladies of this society have raised this season for their entertainments in the little chapel, socials and by sales of food and fancy articles more than $60. At a meeting held at the home of Mrs.

J. B. Abercrombie Friday afternoon it was decided to pay out of this fund $30 on the excavation and $25 for concrete blocks.

Mrs. W. S. Holmes and daughters, Mrs. Geo. S. Towne, entertained at a pleasant neighborhood affair last Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Holmes on North Halifax avenue; 19 or 20 ladies were present.
In a rose contest Mrs. Knight, guest of Mr. Peabody, won the prize of a beautiful vase filled with Paul Neron

CONGENIAL PARTY PICNICS AT ENTERPRISE HOME

Hon. Edmund Pierce and wife entertained at an automobile picnic to Enterprise, Saturday, a party of 29 friends from Daytona and the two peninsula towns. It was a delightful occasion, long to be remembered by all who participated in the outing. The day was perfect, the roads were good, the company was congenial, and the warm welcome they received on their arrival at Enterprise from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gordon as a last needed item led up to the finishing touches, which was the elegant spread set in the open for the jolly picnickers. A visit to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon's beautiful home, and their large and well-kept chicken farm featured in the pleasures of the day. 500 little chicks were taken out of the brooder that day.
Those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Pierce's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. A.
Ayres, Dr. and Mrs. Raymer, Daytona Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Fargo, N. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, La Porte, Ind.; Mrs. John Dougan, Mrs.
W. T. Dougan, Mrs. E. B. Hanner, Indiana; Miss Georgia Morrison, Miss Marie Morrison, Niles, Mich.; Misses Nelson and Manning, Mrs. E. A. Felmer, H. A. Goodrich, B. G. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Commons, Stone Island; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and son, Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Olds entertained Monday evening a company of 12 at a dinner and card party at their beautiful winter home on North Halifax avenue. On account of the illness of their daughter, Miss Gladys Olds, at their home in Lansing, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Olds will leave earlier than they anticipated. Mrs. Olds and youngest daughter, Miss Bernice, leave Tuesday for Lansing. Mr. Olds, whose business demands his presence in New York, leaves on Wednesday for that city, and will join his family at Lansing later. The Olds' home will not be closed, however, as Mr. Olds' sister, Mrs. G. H. Sheets will not go north until some time later.

SEVENTH NUMBER TUESDAY OF D. B. M. E. ENTERTAINMENTS

The seventh number of the entertainment course of the Daytona Beach M. E. church will be given at the church Tuesday evening, when Rev.
Elmer Willis Serl, pastor of the Tourist church, will deliver his impressive lecture entitled, "Born an Original; Died a Copy." An added attraction for the occasion will be vocal selections by the Cleveland, O., soloist, Mrs. H. S. Swihart, whose singing has made her a popular favorite among the music-lovers of the peninsula cities.

The entertainment is scheduled to commence promptly at 7:30 p. m.

INTERESTING ADDRESSES BEFORE BIBLE CLASS

Dr. Upton, of Cleveland, Ohio, addressed the Tourist Bible class at the Methodist church Sunday morning on the "Kingdom." Dr. Cox, of the University of Florida, will be the speaker next Sunday at the class hour. An interesting fact in regard to this class is that 21 states in the Union, four provinces of Canada and one member from England makes up its constituent parts, and also that the number represents 19 different denominations.
The next number in the series of entertainments given by the class will take place Tuesday evening, March 9th, and will be a lecture by Rev. Elmer Willis Serl. His subject, "Born an Original; Died a Copy." Mr. Serl is a well-known preacher and author, and his ability in the lecture field is recognized.

tensively in the local markets and shipped to the northern and eastern markets packed in ice.

Mr. Hodges mentioned fish, referring to them as the "very backbone of Florida's food product." Continuing, he said: "Fish abound along every mile of seacoast we have, but, alas, they are fast disappearing. The salt water fish have had but little or no protection. They are worth millions of dollars to the state and their only salvation is the passage of a good general fish law at the next session of the legislature, and then the law's rigid enforcement. It should be a revenue producer to the state, but not so as to burden the industry or those engaged in it. Florida should receive not less than $100,000 in revenue from her fish industry the first year such a law was put into effect."

It will be of many interest to many to learn that shell fish commission, even though it has been in existence but a few months and has had to go through the tedious process of organization and "getting its bearings," has already turned over to the state several thousand dollars of net revenue.

Commissioner Hodges will stop in Daytona again, the latter part of March, on his way down the coast.

DEPERDUSSIN GOT
20,000,000 FRANCS

PARIS, March 9.—In the old days the news that the "affairs Deperdussin" was to come before the Assizes would have created something of a sensation in Paris, which would have rubbed up its recollections of the arrest 18 months ago of a man, reputed a multi-millionaire, head of a great aeroplane firm, donor of an aerodrome, and recent purchaser of a historic chateau. Paris would have remembered, too, with the sort of appreciation that she cannot but feel for criminals on a big scale, the amount of Deperdussin's alleged defalcations—more than $5,000,000. Not less would have been her somewhat cynical admiration of the extraordinary simplicity of the methods employed by the accused—how first of all he got a great bank to advance him a tolerable sum for the purchase of raw silk, and, purchasing nothing, repaid out of the loan a fantastic percentage; then borrowed a sum slightly larger, out of which he again paid a fat dividend; and so went on, always increasing his borrowing, till in ten years they amounted to $5,000,000. Tout Paris would have chuckled, too, and again rather cynically, at the effrontery which ventured to show in the last year of the cumulative swindle, orders for silk which exceeded the total value of silk imported into France, and at the simplicity of a great bank, which, blinded by what appeared like noble returns for its money, did not notice the crying discrepancy. As it is, the Deperdussin case will fall very flat. The bleeding of a great bank of a million pounds is a very little thing when all Europe is outpouring blood and treasure.

BIRMINGHAM CLUB'S
SECRETARY VISITOR
TO DAYTONA MON.

R. W. Tyson, secretary of the Birmingham baseball club, Southern league, came over, Monday, from Orlando, where the "Barons" are spending the winter-practice season, and remained until today. Mr. Tyson's presence in Daytona had to do with the series of games to be played on Ebbetts field between Birmingham and Uncle Wilbert's pets. There are to be three of these games, the first of which is scheduled for Saturday, and the other two Sunday and Monday.

The present Birmingham outfit includes 33 men, a number of whom are among the list of idols worshipped by southern fans. The big steel city of the southeast bears the reputation of being one of the most liberal patrons of the "greatest game ever invented" this side of the metropolis at the north; and to a Daily News representative Mr. Tyson confided that Birmingham's in the only class-A club in America that leaves its home park and seeks winter training grounds. This, as the reader may have already guessed, is a distinction not achieved by clubs financially weak as a result of poor home-support.

Three real ball games may be expected when the Barons and Superbas lock horns.

Remarkable Memory.

So remarkable is the power of memory in some men that it seems an uncanny mental acquisition. Probably the most remarkable example of the kind was the ability of the celebrated chess player Paul Morphy to play a dozen games of chess at the one time blindfolded—that is, playing the games simultaneously without looking at the chess board, the moves being called to him by number and he calling back his reply.

First Gold Found in California.

The first discovery of gold in California was made in 1848 by James W. W. Marshall, who happened to pick up a glittering nugget in the bed of a stream. Since that time the state has yielded more than one and one-half billion dollars in gold. Marshall died a poor man.

Beautiful Unseen World.

There is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and wonder beyond.—Frank P. Church, in New York Sun.

Where Loyalty Counts.

Loyalty to one's employer is the first lesson that should be taught to the aspirant for a place in the business world, says a circular sent out by the efficiency bureau of the New York university. The reason given is that loyalty means success to the employer and resultant prosperity to the employee.

OMAR HARDGROVE.

Not he of "Jug o'wine" fame, but probably a personal friend of the Persian poet

Some eight or ten years ago he was with an Indian team, and some say the prominence of the Indian in the national game today is due to the early efforts of Hardgrove, who followed closely behind Daniel Boone in to the red man's country.

Just now he is a pitcher on the baseball club representing Birmingham in the Southern league. His hobby is detectives and their work.
He is known as "Sleuth," and draws real money in the winter for running to earth red handed criminals.

Baseball pitchers are supposed to study the weakness of opposing batters. Hardgrove studies "where they like 'em," and puts them there. If he crosses them in doing it, and escapes without a broken leg, his joy is unbounded.

Down in Orlando, where the Barons are in training, they do say that old Omar is finding new life in the Florida climate, and that he is being groomed for the slaughter that the Brooklyn club intends giving him about March 13th on local grounds.

ROY ELLAM.

Ellam is captain and shortstop of the Birmingham baseball club. Molesworth, manager of the Barons, dug him out of the depths several years ago. The year following his appearance in the Southern league he was drafted by the Cincinnati team, but his light willow work prevented his sticking. He came back to Birmingham the following season, after a brief stay with Kansas City.

Ellam's prowess lies in his quick thinking, fast fielding and ability to get on bases. The fans of Birmingham voted him the most popular player on the Barons roster in 1914, thereby enabling him to win a life-

Late Sergeant (to unhappy recruit, who won't "cut it short")—Silence, you'll win you're spakin' to a officer!—London Opinion

JOHN D. WONDERED WHY SO MANY PLAYERS

The Brooklyn Eagle's correspondent with the Superbas wired his paper the following story about last Saturday's game.

John D. Rockefeller saw what is believed to be his first game of baseball here Saturday, when he watched the Brooklyn Nationals and their Yankees in their first exhibition at the new ball park.

The world's richest man arrived from Ormond in his touring car, attended by his secretary and physician. He took a position in the park in space back of left field and seemed to be very interested in the proceedings. Through his secretary he asked to be excused from an interview, but the newspaper men delegated Spire Elberts to talk baseball with the oil man.

According to Elberts, Rockefeller did the interviewing. He was more interested in the business end of the game than in the playing department. At any rate, he had read about the baseball war and wanted to know how it was that players could go from one league to another while under contract.

Elberts explained the whys and the wherefores and Rockefeller remarked:

"Do they do that? Why, that shouldn't be."

"When the players are sold from one club to another, asked the great man, do they get part of the purchase money?"

Elberts explained that the men received an increase in salary.

"That seems to be alright," said Rockefeller.

When told that there were 29 players, the millionaire marveled that so many should be carried on one club. Elberts explained the necessity for it under the present conditions in baseball and Rockefeller remarked:

"It's a wonderful game, wonderfully developed in the past few years." He left about the seventh inning, promising to return another day.

Answered His Question.

Prince George of Denmark was nicknamed "Est-il-possible" by James II. It is said that when the startling events of the revolution of 1688 succeeded one another with breathless rapidity, the emotions of Prince George found vent in the repeated exclamation: "Est-il-possible?" King James, enumerating those who had forsaken him, said: "And est-il-possible has gone, too!"

Hats the Cause of Baldness.

Baldness is a matter of headgear. The doctors are fairly well agreed upon that. Men grow bald more frequently than women because of the hats they wear. It is true that women wear bigger and often heavier hats than men, but they attach them to their hair and not to their scalps, hence they permit ventilation and do not constrict the veins, while men's hats, with their hard, tight-fitting brims not only permit no air to enter, but constrict the blood vessels all around the head.

REXALL DRUG STORE AFIRE MONDAY P. M.

Damage to the amount of about $50 was done the interior of the Rexall drug store, corner Beach street and Orange avenue, about 4:00 o'clock on Monday afternoon, when a quantity of wood alcohol became ignited in some manner not known. One of the drug clerks was drawing the inflammable fluid from a barrel when the blaze started. The fire department rushed to the scene and extinguished the fire with chemicals.

The fire alarm caused considerable excitement, as a high wind was blowing from the north, the side of Orange avenue on which the Rexall store is located. But for the prompt efficiency of Chief French's squad, an entire block or more of business houses and residences might have been wiped out by flames.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

NOMINATIONS MADE BY BOARD OF DIRECTORS PROVES AC-CEPTABLE TO MAJORITY OF
MEMBERS. LUNCHEON FOL-LOWS ELECTION.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Florida East Coast Automobile association was held at the club house at Daytona Beach Monday evening. The nominations made by the board of directors at the regular meeting a few weeks ago were evidently acceptable to a majority of the members and the nominees were elected at the meeting Monday evening. The officers of the association now are:

President—Dr. J. E. Rawlings.
First Vice President—Col. C. M. Bingham.

Second Vice President—W. G. Nash.
Treasurer—J. D. Maley.
Secretary—R. L. Smith.

Directors—Michael Sholtz, T. E. Fitzgerald, J. H. Donnelly, R. S. Maley, L. M. Walte, and W. M. Hankins.

Following the election of officers an appetizing luncheon was served by the steward, Charles Juskowitz, to which full justice was done by the assembled club members.

Paradoxical Proposition.
"Do you use the word 'politics' as singular or plural?" asked the person who is always wanting to know something. "That has always puzzled me," replied Senator Sorghum. "There is nothing more singular than some of the pluralities that politics develops."

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF HER VISITING SISTER

A pleasant social event that escaped earlier mention was a 500 card party given by Mrs. Walter Kreitzberg last Friday at 74 Second avenue in honor of her sister, Mrs. H. F. Krantz, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Four tables were engaged at play and the first prize, a hand-painted relish dish, was won by Mrs. Lillian Wilkins. The second prize, a cut glass nappy, was secured by Mrs. H. A. Intemann and the third prize, a hand-painted nappy, became the property of Miss Adline Barry. The consolation prize fell to Mrs. Marie Barry. Following the cards a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.
